

Process

Here's a typical workflow of how a project could come together this is my rough outline of how I like to approach a branding project. All steps are, of course, dependant on the particular project and client expectations.

